Introduction

- This scheme aims to support excellent early career researchers so they can establish themselves as future scientific leaders in the brain tumour field.
- Over 12 years, this scheme could provide the right researcher with up to £1.6 million in funding and the support needed to set up their own lab.
- The scheme runs in three parts (Postdoctoral Fellowship, Junior Fellowship and Senior Fellowship), with only those entering the scheme as postdoctoral fellows eligible for the subsequent grants.
- Up to six postdoctoral fellowships will be awarded, for an investment of up to £60,000 each per year for three years. The initial application is to be made by a strong mentor who will guide them through this initial term.
- After three years these postdoctoral fellows will be invited to submit an application for a four year Junior Fellowship, totalling up to £480,000, to support themselves and a research associate in a host laboratory. During this time, fellows should develop as independent researchers and begin to build their own groups.
- In the third stage of funding, successful fellows will be invited to apply for a five year Senior Fellowship, totalling up to £1 million, to support the applicant and a small research group. This senior post MUST be at a UK university or institution.
- We encourage a change in host institution and mentor at each stage to facilitate the applicant’s development into a fully independent group leader.
- Please read our Grant Conditions, Finance Guidelines, and Data Protection Statement before applying for funding.
- All applications must have input from those affected by brain tumours as early as possible. To facilitate this you may choose to engage The Charity’s Research Involvement Network (RIN), a network of people who either care for someone who has a brain tumour (or has done in the past) or are living with a brain tumour themselves. More information on the RIN and how to contact them can be found at thebraintumourcharity.org/PPI
