Our challenge

Photos are vital to our work as a charity; we use them on our website, printed collateral and social media. Effective management of our photo library is really important, both to ensure that we have consent from those within the images to use within our marketing materials and that photos are easily accessible to members of the team who need to use them.

Good management of our photo library will also enable us to understand the diversity within our photos and identify any gaps, as we want to make sure our photos reflect the diverse community we represent and the inclusive culture we work hard to foster at The Charity.

Our marketing team are in the process of transitioning to a new piece of photo management software, and are looking for a volunteer to support with some of the administrative aspects of this project.

How can you help?

We’re looking for a volunteer to help us:

- Set up relevant tags for photos within the library
- Review photos that have been uploaded and tag them with relevant topics/themes

This is a distinct project, as we go through the process of transitioning our photos across to a new platform. However, there may be opportunities for the volunteer to support this area of work on an ad hoc basis following this.

What impact will you have?

By supporting us with this project, you will enable the team at The Charity to effective use this new photo library, both saving time and ensuring that our ways of working are smart and scalable for the future.
We’re looking for...
We’re looking for a volunteer with the following skills and experience...

- Great attention to detail
- Strong digital skills and confidence using new software or tools
- Someone who is happy to take direction and work independently, with the support of a team
- Good time management and communication skills

We particularly encourage applications from those who are significantly underrepresented in our sector, including individuals from Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic (BAME) communities.

What can you gain from volunteering?

- You’ll have the opportunity to utilise your existing skills, while developing and learning new ones to take forward into the future
- You’ll join a friendly, passionate team and develop an insight into The Charity’s marketing team.

Time commitment

We are looking for someone to support the team with this one-off project, which will commence on Tuesday 12th October.

The time commitment to this project will vary depending on the volunteers’ experience. We can be flexible about the project completion date, to meet the availability of the volunteer.

Volunteering can take place either within or outside of office hours, although some crossover with the working hours of the team will be beneficial, for the purpose of training and getting support or advice from the team.

Practical considerations

You will receive a full induction to The Brain Tumour Charity and any specific training for the role, as well as ongoing direction from a member of the Marketing Team for the duration of the project.

We carry out reference checks for all individuals who will be volunteering with us on a regular basis. Volunteers will also be required to complete some internal data protection and disclosure documentation before commencing the role. Volunteers must be over 18.
