Data Protection Statement

The information you provide The Brain Tumour Charity will be stored on a secure database (for six years after the end of the grant period the conclusion of an unsuccessful application) and used to process and administer your grant application. To ensure that the application and funding processes are conducted effectively, transparently, and fairly, we will also use this information for audit, statistical analysis, administration, and evaluation purposes.

Your information may be disclosed to external peer reviewers, including those based outside the UK. It may also be shared with co-funders or potential funders to facilitate collaboration, thereby enhancing the support and success of research projects. All parties with whom your information is shared by The Brain Tumour Charity are required to keep it secure and confidential in accordance with UK data protection legislation and privacy adequacy. Appropriate safeguards are in place to ensure the secure transfer of data, particularly outside the UK.

Basic details of successful grant applications will be published on The Brain Tumour Charity website or in our Annual Report. Additional details, including your name, employing institution, program title, and summary of the proposal, may be released publicly (e.g., via the internet or publicly available databases) to support the promotion and impact of the research, benefiting both the research community and the broader public.

You may be contacted about other award schemes, initiatives, or for feedback relevant to your application. You can opt out of these communications or withdraw your application by notifying us at (research@thebraintumourcharity.org).
